Why GRADUATE STUDIES in CULTURAL STUDIES?

Cultural Studies is graduate school reinvented for the 21st century. We are a self-governing, interdisciplinary graduate program for people who want to develop the tools to critically understand the world, and change it. The complexity of contemporary culture means that more than ever before society needs people trained in multiple disciplines, theories and practices. We work with communities throughout and beyond the university to create new forms and methods of research that could not be done in traditional departments. Our students write plays and curate exhibitions. They travel to Argentina, China and Turkey for their research. They win the highest academic accolades, including Fulbright and Vanier scholarships. What unites all these diverse research agendas is our passion for social justice. We believe that all our research should in some way be capable of addressing real world problems. Students work with indigenous peoples, artists, students, prisoners and activist groups to bring about social transformation. They also conduct artistic research-creation, and present their work in a variety of media. When they graduate, our students have superior intellectual tools and practical skills that will last them a lifetime outside of the university.

Why QUEEN’S?

Comprising 100 students and 90 distinguished faculty from 22 disciplines, Cultural Studies is an innovative and growing interdisciplinary research program for MA and PhD students. Our programs include opportunities for cultural production and community-activist fieldwork as options alongside traditional academic research. We are also committed to a diversity of students and faculty and to the global expertise that they bring to the cultural and academic fields. Students participate equally with faculty in the program’s governance.

ACHIEVE YOUR ACADEMIC GOALS

• Start with key priorities like developing your relationship with your supervisor, forming your committee, and doing your coursework.
• Regularly attend the Cultural Studies Colloquium (CUST 802/902) to learn about the scope of Cultural Studies research.
• Find your way through the academic process with help from departmental and Expanding Horizons professional development workshops, the Department Grad Chair and the SGS Habitat.

MAXIMIZE RESEARCH IMPACT

• Start to think about the audiences for your research.
• If you will be continuing graduate studies, apply for SSHRC and OGS funding.

BUILD SKILLS AND EXPERIENCE

• Consider positions in student services, the SOPS, or media outlets like the Queen’s Journal / CBRC and the SGS Blog. Look in the AMS Clubs Directory for more ideas.
• Serve on the Cultural Studies steering committee or other university committees. Talk to the student caucus for tips on getting involved.
• Check out professional development workshops from Expanding Horizons and the Cultural Studies program.

ENGAGE WITH YOUR COMMUNITY

• Explore how you can connect with your community through experiential opportunities on- and off-campus.
• Consider volunteering with different local community organizations, such as Martha’s Table, or Loving Spoonful.
• Join the Cultural Studies Student Caucus (CSSC) to give input.

LAUNCH YOUR CAREER

• Finding a career that fits starts with knowing yourself. Get help by taking a Career Services career planning workshop or meeting with a career counselor. Check out books like 30 What Are You Going to Do With That? or The Academic Job Search from the Career Resource Area for advice on various career options.
• Start reading publications like University Affairs and the Chronicle of Higher Education. Browse non-academic labour market websites. Stay on the lookout for special events like Graduate Student Career Week to explore your career pathways.
• Check admission test deadlines if needed for further studies.

GETTING STARTED

INTERMEDIATE STAGE

• Consult with your supervisor and confirm which pattern you will be following for your thesis or project.
• Complete further coursework if required, and gain ethics clearance for your research if required.
• Form your supervisory committee, get your research proposal approved, and begin to research and write your project or thesis.
• Consider studying abroad with a Cultural Studies exchange partner.

WRAPPING UP

• Complete your project or thesis. Submit your thesis or project to the OSPACE archive.
• Consider participating in the 3 Minute Thesis (3MT) competition.
• Consider publication options for your research.
• Attend a major conference in your field, such as those put on by the Canadian Association of Cultural Studies.

WHAT WILL I LEARN?

A graduate degree in Cultural Studies can equip you with valuable and versatile skills, such as:
• Knowledge and technical skills
• Effective communication skills in multiple forms for diverse audiences
