

Film and Media

With a focus on critical thinking, our students examine a wide variety of media – including film, animation, television, AR/VR, and digital media – in order to better understand, and contribute to, contemporary visual culture. Our program integrates this material with a diverse range of studies courses in history, theory, and criticism as well as foundational and advanced production courses in digital video, animation, and open media.

TOP 5 REASONS to study FILM AND MEDIA

- 1 Programs combine studies in film & media history, theory, and criticism with instruction in video, animation, and interactive media production.
- 2 Access to resources in our state-of-the-art facility, the Isabel Bader Centre.
- 3 Earn credit for completing practical internships in a variety of industry-related fields locally or elsewhere.
- 4 Develop critical thinking skills needed to pursue graduate studies or leadership in any profession.
- 5 Innumerable opportunities to network with experienced faculty, staff, and industry professionals.

Alumni Story

"I am grateful to [my Film and Media Professors and] to Queen's University for teaching me that film reflects the world - past, present, and future – [and] to think outside the box, open my eyes and see the world in new ways, to remember the importance of friendship, and for starting me on my storytelling journey."

Why study in Kingston?

Since 1841, our community has been more than a collection of bright minds—Queen's has attracted students with an ambitious spirit. Queen's has the highest retention rates, the highest graduation rates, and one of the highest employment rates among recent graduates. We are a research intensive university focused on the undergraduate experience. The BBC has identified Kingston as one of the GREATEST UNIVERSITY TOWNS in the world – and it is often awarded the safest city in Canada. It is a university city at the core; just a quick drive to Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and even New York. A university with more clubs per capita than any other university in Canada, and a city with more restaurants per capita than any other city in North America – you will have the experience of a lifetime at Queen's – and graduate with a degree that is globally recognized among the best.

We're closer than you think.
