

Art History

A rewarding career in the arts industries, heritage management, or museum sector begins with an art history degree. An art history degree also prepares you for a wide array of other career possibilities which require strong intercultural skills, visual literacy, and research strengths. Students in art history explore and understand key topics in global arts and material culture, and critically examine the role of museums and galleries in our contemporary world. Our students have first-hand engagements with art outside the classroom—such as through internships, field trips, or our Venice Biennale Summer School—and gain valuable learning experiences that prepare them to be innovative thinkers and leaders in the arts and cultural sector. The department is home to an array of distinguished scholars and curators in the fields of global arts, architecture, and museum studies, and offers students the opportunity to be creative, rigorous, and socially engaged.

TOP 5 REASONS to study ART HISTORY

- 1 Develop a strong visual literacy with the images and material objects that surround us.
- 2 Take field trips to important art exhibitions in the region.
- 3 Study in our international programs, including the Venice Summer School.
- 4 Engage in first-hand classroom study at the Agnes Etherington Art Centre.
- 5 Learn from faculty members with international reputations, who have a variety of experiences and perspectives to share.

Alumni Story

"My art history graduate education at Queen's provided me with excellent training as an art historian. I had the opportunity to study and work directly with historic drawings in the Queen's Archives, and learn how to research and catalogue them while producing a finding aid for a newly acquired collection."

-Christine O'Malley Queen's BA and MA

1ST YEAR

2ND YEAR

3RD YEAR

4TH OR FINAL YEAR

GET THE COURSES YOU NEED

In first year you will have the chance to explore the foundations of Art History along with some electives. Those considering a future in Art Conservation may want to take Chemistry and Biology as part of your first-year electives.

Attend Majors Night in the Winter term to learn more about Plan options.

Interested in getting a head start in learning and working in a digital world? Take ASCX 150 and develop future-ready skills!

GET RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

Join teams or clubs on campus such as Vogue Charity Fashion Show.

See the AMS Clubs Directory or the Queen's Get Involved page for more ideas.

GET ENGAGED WITH THE COMMUNITY

Volunteer on or off-campus with different community organizations, such as Best Buddies or Muse Magazine.

GET ENGAGED GLOBALLY

Prepare for work or studies in a multi-cultural environment by taking QUIC's Intercultural Awareness Certificate, and research possible immigration regulations.

Speak to a QUIC advisor to get involved in their programs, events, and training opportunities.

GET CAREER READY

Grappling with program decisions? Go to Majors Night or get some help considering career options from Career Services.

Start going deeper into the discipline of Art History, while considering a minor and/or certificate such as Global Action and Engagement. Learn more about certificate and internship options.

Want to make sure your academics are where you want them to be? Visit SASS (Student Academic Success Services) for some help.

Volunteer at places like the Queen's Archives or the Union Gallery.

Look into summer jobs by talking to the department or Career Services about work through SWEP or Work-Study. Consider entrepreneurial opportunities like the Queen's Founders and Innovators Initiative (QFI).

Get involved with the Art History Departmental Student Council (DSC).

Volunteer at the Agnes Etherington Art Centre, where student docents lead school programs, family programs, and assist with children's art classes.

Start thinking about if you would like to study abroad. Apply in January for a third year exchange through the International Programs Office. Start studying a foreign language: this is key for graduate study or a career in Art History. German, Italian, and Spanish are popular choices.

Explore different careers of interest in the Career Services Information Area. For information check out Career Cruising.

Find impactful work that aligns with your values using the Queen's Career Guide to the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

A chance to start grouping courses in areas of interest, or to keep it more general and explore many areas of Art History. Meet with an Academic Advisor to make sure you are on track and have planned out your courses for next year.

Apply to ARTH 395 to get academic credit for a hands-on internship. Apply for upper-year volunteer positions at the Agnes Etherington Art Centre. If interested, apply for an Undergraduate Student Summer Research Fellowship (USSRF). Consider applying to do a 12-16 month QUIP internship between your third and fourth year.

Attend the Queen's annual Art History graduate student conference, Context and Meaning, in February.

Do targeted networking with alumni working in careers of interest through LinkedIn. Connect with professors at events or workshops hosted by the DSC.

In alternate years, ARTH 380 Venice and Its Biennale: The Display of Contemporary Art and Culture in a Historic City is offered as a summer course in Italy.

Start focusing on areas of interest. Research education requirements for careers of interest. If needed, prepare to take any required tests (like the GRE or LSAT) and get help thinking about Grad School from Career Services.

In fourth year you will have the chance to participate in research-based courses that can lead to Graduate School or to your future career path. Make sure to finish up all your courses for your degree.

Investigate requirements for full-time jobs or other opportunities related to careers of interest.

Assess what experience you're lacking and fill in gaps with volunteering, clubs, or internships – check out the Career Services skills workshop for help.

Consider joining professional associations like Universities Art Association of Canada (UAAC-AAUC), Society for the Study of Architecture in Canada (SSAC), and the College Art Association.

Join groups on LinkedIn reflecting specific careers or topics of interest in Art History.

International students interested in staying in Canada can speak with an International Student Advisor.

Apply to jobs or future education, or make plans for other adventures. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, interviews, Grad School applications, or other decisions. Apply in the fall for SSHRC and OGS scholarships if applying to Grad School in Ontario.

Why study in Kingston?

Since 1841, our community has been more than a collection of bright minds – Queen's has attracted students with an ambitious spirit. Queen's has the highest retention rates, the highest graduation rates, and one of the highest employment rates among recent graduates. We are a research intensive university focused on the undergraduate experience. The BBC has identified Kingston as one of the GREATEST UNIVERSITY TOWNS in the world – and it is often awarded the safest city in Canada. It is a university city at the core; just a quick drive to Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and even New York. A university with more clubs per capita than any other university in Canada, and a city with more restaurants per capita than any other city in North America – you will have the experience of a lifetime at Queen's – and graduate with a degree that is globally recognized among the best.

We're closer than you think.
