Opportunities for employment at Queen's University

"Student positions "on-campus" provide rich co-curricular learning opportunities. Even during COVID-19, Queen's wants to ensure that there are as many "on-campus" experiences for students as possible. Departments are encouraged to have student positions remote wherever possible, but some work may be on campus. Opportunities will become available throughout the year – use the strategies below to learn about new roles as they become available.

CHECK job postings in MyCareer (careers.queensu.ca)

- Log in into MyCareer
- Select "Postings" and then "All Job Postings". View all or filter by type and geographical area
- Check often – employers sometimes post frequently and have short timelines
- New students have access the day after enrolling in at least one course

CHECK OUT the Work Study Program and SWEP (Summer Work Experience Program)

- Consider different options to build experience and skills

TUNE IN to campus

- Read local and campus news (e.g., The Journal, AMS, International Centre, Gazette) and other publications
- Check bulletin boards on campus in departments and general areas (e.g., JDUC, ARC, Mackintosh-Corry Hall)
- Be alert for possible opportunities (e.g., recent grants awarded to departments or professors)

CONTACT campus employers directly and professionally

- Prepare a brief script to know what to say when contacting campus employers
- Identify yourself clearly, saying your first and last name, and your interest in potential roles
- Record the name and contact information of the hiring coordinator
- Inquire about their hiring procedures (check first—these are often on their website)
- Find out about the nature of the work
- Express positive interest in some aspect of the work they describe
- Thank contacts for their help and follow-up

MAKE THE MATCH between you and an opportunity

- Check out our tipsheets on resumes, cover letters, networking, and interviews
- Improve your job search skills with Career Services workshops Resume, Cover Letter and Interviews, and more)
- Book a 1-to-1 appointment with a Career Services Resume Coach to review your resume and cover letter

SUBMIT your application

- Address employer requirements by following their procedures
- Follow-up to check on the progress of your application

Who is hiring students?

Here is a list of departments who often hire a number of students – because of the impacts of COVID-19 their plans may be different this year and may change through the year. Remember that this list is not exhaustive – many smaller departments may have positions. It is recommended that you can check directly with them and regularly monitor the job board in MyCareer.
