Why GRADUATE STUDIES in EDUCATION?

Our Master of Education (MEd) program will advance your knowledge and career in the field of education. Our graduate programs are designed to develop and support innovative research in education. By working with our outstanding researchers and experts, you will develop critical reflection, innovative research, writing, teaching, and leadership skills. Our program gives you flexibility to choose your research focus in the MEd program. We offer a diverse range of courses and program formats. A personal program advisor will support you in designing a program that achieves your learning and research goals.

Why QUEEN’S?

Queen’s University has an active and vibrant graduate student community. Our Faculty of Education brings together diverse perspectives on education, fostering multidisciplinary expertise within an active collaborative research community. Our research leads to new knowledge and understandings about teaching and learning, and progressive changes in educational policies and practices.

As a researcher at Queen’s, you will have opportunities to engage in outreach initiatives in the community and in local, national, and international partnerships.

Program STRUCTURE

We offer two program paths:

- 6 courses plus a research thesis
- 8 courses plus a research project

RESEARCH Areas

- Assessment and Evaluation
- Curriculum Studies
- Early Childhood Education
- History and Philosophy of Education
- Language and Literacy
- Leadership and Policy Studies
- Learning Exceptionalities
- Math, Science and Technology in Education
- Social Justice and Inclusion
- Special Education

Visit the Faculty of Education website to learn more about the Master of Education program.
GETTING STARTED
- Begin by creating a list of your priorities such as developing your relationship with your advisor.
- Begin your coursework and think about your MEd project or thesis.
- Complete the self-paced course on Research Ethics (CORE),
- Find your way through the academic process with help from Basicamp sessions, departmental and Expanding Horizons professional development workshops, the Education Associate Dean and the SGS website.

INTERMEDIATE STAGE
- Complete your coursework, select a supervisor and form your committee.
- If completing a MEd thesis, register for thesis, write your research proposal, and schedule your mandatory colloquium in the summer term of your first year.
- If completing a MEd project, submit your project to your supervisor and a second reader for review.
- Complete the ethical review process through the Education Research Ethics Board (EREBD), if applicable.

WRAPPING UP
- Write and revise your Master’s project or thesis.
- If completing a MEd thesis, schedule and hold thesis defence.
- If completing a MEd project, submit your project to your supervisor and a second reader for review.
- Consider publication options for your research, including the Canadian Journal of Education.
- Attend a major conference in your field, such as the annual meeting of the Canadian Society for the Study of Education (CSSSE), or the American Education Research Association.

ACHIEVE YOUR ACADEMIC GOALS
- Identify the audiences for your research.
- Apply for SSHRC and OGS funding to support your current MEd and subsequent graduate work.
- Consider positions in student services, the SGS, or media outlets like the Queen’s Journal CPRG, and the SGS Blog. Look in the AMS Clubs Directory for more ideas.
- Serve on Faculty, EGSS and SGS committees.
- Explore professional development workshops from Expanding Horizons and the Faculty of Education.
- Participate in student government (e.g. EGSS, SGS, EMSHI).
- Support Sistema Kingston through teaching internships and research.
- Engage with your graduate and professional community through activities such as graduate student outreach programs, ScholarShare, organizing conferences, and research groups.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through QueensConnects on LinkedIn, the Queen’s Alumni Association, professional associations, and at conferences.
- Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Consider joining professional associations like the American Education Research Association, or the Canadian Society for the Study of Education (CSSSE), or the American Education Research Association.

MAXIMIZE RESEARCH IMPACT
- Attend or present at a graduate conference such as ScholarShare, or the Rosa Bruno-Jafé Symposium in Education.
- Consider participating in the 3 Minute Thesis (3MT) competition.
- Expand your research audience through social media such as Twitter or a blog.
- Seek opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Explore workshops and services offered by Career Services.

BUILD SKILLS AND EXPERIENCE
- Apply for a Research Assistantship or Teaching Assistantship position to develop your research or teaching skills.
- For help with teaching, get support from the Centre for Teaching and Learning.
- Enroll in SGS902 or the PTLT certificate for more professional development in teaching and learning.
- Consider completing an internship as part of your program.
- Explore and contribute to research efforts.
- Explore extra opportunities to gain experience.

ENGAGE WITH YOUR COMMUNITY
- Consider joining professional associations like the Queen’s Alumni Association, or media outlets such as the Queen’s Journal CPRG, and the SGS Blog. Look in the AMS Clubs Directory for more ideas.
- Serve on Faculty, EGSS and SGS committees.
- Explore professional development workshops from Expanding Horizons and the Faculty of Education.
- Participate in student government (e.g. EGSS, SGS, EMSHI).
- Support Sistema Kingston through teaching internships and research.
- Explore different careers of interest by using QueensConnects on LinkedIn to connect with Queen’s alumni.
- Consider a PhD, explore programs of interest, reach out to Faculty, and apply to PhD programs and external scholarships.
- Attend job talks.
- Research educational organizations of interest
- Prepare your CV for potential positions of interest.
- Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.

WHERE CAN I GO?
- Private sector and not-for-profit youth level
  - Teaching at primary or secondary school level
  - Teaching at college
  - Further graduate studies
  - Educational associations
  - Private sector and for-profit youth organizations
- Graduate level
  - Primary school teaching
  - Secondary school teaching
  - Leadership
  - Career Pathways
- Internships
  - School boards
  - International nonprofit
  - Non-government organization
  - Fundraising

WHAT WILL I LEARN?
A graduate degree in Education can equip you with valuable and versatile skills, such as:
- Awareness, an understanding of sound ethical practices, social responsibility, responsible research and cultural sensitivity.
- Knowledge and research skills.
- Effective communication skills in multiple forms for diverse audiences.
- Information management: prioritize, organize and synthesize large amounts of information.
- Time management: meet deadlines and manage responsibilities despite competing demands.
- Project management: develop ideas, gather information, analyze, critically appraise findings, draw and act on conclusions.
- Creativity and innovation.
- Perseverance.
- Independence and experience as a collaborative researcher.
- Professionalism in all aspects of work, research, and interactions.
- Leadership: initiative and vision, leading people and discussion.

Visit careers.queensu.ca/gradmaps for the online version with links!

This map is intended to provide suggestions for activities and careers, but everyone’s abilities, experiences, and constraints are different. Build your own Grad Map using our online My Grad Map tool.
Application FAQs

What do I need to know to APPLY?

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS
- Professional experience, a B.Ed. degree or its equivalent, and a minimum of a B- average in a Bachelor’s degree or its equivalent, or
- Two years professional or industrial experience, and a minimum of a B- average in a Bachelor’s Honours degree or its equivalent, or
- B.Ed. degree, and a minimum of a mid-B average in a Bachelor’s degree or its equivalent
- A proposed focus of study

ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS
- If English is not a native language, prospective students must meet the English language proficiency requirements in writing, speaking, reading, and listening. The following minimum scores are required: (1) TOEFL iBT: Writing (24/30); Speaking (22/30); Reading (22/30); Listening (20/30). Applicants must have the minimum score in each test as well as the minimum overall score, or (2) IELTS: 7.0 (academic module overall band score and a 7.0 for each test band), or (3) PTE Academics: 65, or (4) CAEL CE -70 (minimum overall score).

KEY DATES & DEADLINES
- Application due: January 15th
- Notification of acceptance: Late February

Before you start your application, please review the Graduate studies application process.

What about FUNDING?

All eligible full-time graduate students who request funding (financial support) as part of their initial application can expect to receive a funding offer to help them with the costs associated with their graduate studies in the Faculty of Education.

Normally, if students apply for and successfully obtain a Teaching and/or Research Assistantship the average funding for eligible MEd students is approximately $10,000. Funding packages are awarded to students based on academic merit and they may consist of any or a combination of the following: scholarships, fellowships, external awards the student may bring with them, internal awards, research assistantships, teaching assistantships or graduate teaching fellowships. The Faculty also offers funding for presenting at conferences.

Apply for external funding from OGS, SSHRC/NSERC and other sources. Queen’s will automatically issue a one time $5,000 top-up to Master’s winners of federal government tri-council awards. For more information, see the School of Graduate Studies’ information on awards and scholarships and the Faculty of Education’s funding information.