

Gender Studies

The undergraduate program in Gender Studies at Queen's offers courses in feminist, anti-racist, Indigenous, postcolonial, queer, transgender, and social justice studies. Students learn about the histories of different forms of oppression, engage with popular culture, and critically analyze everyday events. From research papers and blogs, to presentations and creative productions, students work on meticulous research, clear and thoughtful writing, creative expression, and public speaking. Our courses span the arts and social sciences to produce a truly interdisciplinary program, one that prepares students for a broad range of careers.

TOP 5 Reasons to study Gender Studies

- 1 Embrace an intersectional approach to gender that explores and challenges racism, colonialism, (hetero)sexism, capitalism, ableism, and other systems of power.
- 2 Gain transferable skills for the job market: writing, critical thinking, research, public speaking, and creative production.
- 3 Explore how structures of power, privilege, and oppression shape current events and pop culture.
- 4 Learn tools to advocate for systemic change in light of current social and political realities.
- 5 Challenge the status quo and engage in social justice work both locally and globally.

Alumni Story

"As a black woman at Queen's University, Gender Studies went beyond the classroom for me. Rather than solely being an educational space, it was a place that provided me solace in periods of adversity. Being a Gender Studies student meant being in spaces that acknowledged my identity and thus my struggles."

-Chidera Ekeanyawu, BAH '21

Gender Studies MAJOR MAP

BACHELOR OF ARTS (HONOURS): MAJOR, JOINT HONOURS, MINOR

How to use this map

Use the 5 rows of the map to explore possibilities and plan for success in the five overlapping areas of career and academics. The map just offers suggestions – you don't have to do it all! To make your own custom map, use the My Major Map tool.

3RD YEAR

Chance to start grouping courses in areas of interest, or to keep it more general and explore many areas of interest. Meet with an Academic Advisor to make sure you are on track and have planned out your courses for next year.

If interested, apply for an Undergraduate Student Summer Research Fellowship \(SSRF\).

Consider applying to do a 12-16 month IP internship between your third and fourth year or consider entrepreneurial opportunities via programs like the Queen's Innovation Connector Summer Initiative \(CSI\).

Engage in targeted networking with alumni working in careers of interest by joining the LinkedIn group Queen's Connects. Check out Career Services networking workshops.

Connect with professors at events or workshops hosted by the DSC.

Connect your academic interests to broader social struggles and consider joining groups like QPID to collaborate with peers and share knowledge with communities. Begin working and building relationships with international social justice organizations.

Start focusing on areas of interest. Research education requirements for careers of interest. If needed, prepare to take any required tests (like the LSAT, SAT or GMAT) and get help thinking about Grad School from Career Services.

4TH OR FINAL YEAR

In fourth year you will have the chance to participate in research-based courses that can lead to Graduate School or to your future career path. Make sure to finish up all your courses for your major and your optional minor and/or certificate(s).

Interested in working on a real-world problem with an actual client? Take ASCX 400 and develop your consulting and project-management skills.

Look for positions in non-profit organizations through Charity Village.

Investigate requirements for full-time jobs or other opportunities related to careers of interest. Assess what experience you're lacking and fill in gaps with volunteering, clubs, or internships – check out the Career Services skills workshop for help.

Consider joining professional associations like the Canadian Federation for the Humanities and Social Sciences and the Canadian Research Institute for the Advancement of Women.

Join groups on LinkedIn reflecting specific careers or topics of interest in Gender Studies.

International students interested in staying in Canada can speak with an International Student Advisor.

What will I learn?

A degree in Gender Studies can equip you with:

- Understanding how gender is linked with experiences of race, Indigeneity, nation, sexuality, class, and ability.
- Knowledge and tools to identify and challenge structures of power and oppression.
- Skills to engage with creative texts, films, performance, and art.
- Active rather than passive responses to popular culture.
- Mixed methodologies combining the arts, social sciences, and health sciences.
- Analytical skills to form and defend positions with clarity and accuracy in diverse formats.
- Critical thinking skills to recognize and assess the assumptions behind arguments.

Where can I go?

A degree in Gender Studies can take your career in many directions. Many students choose to continue their academic inquiry with a Master's degree. Our students are equipped with a strong foundation for careers in:

- Advocacy Work and Activism
- Communication and Journalism
- Counselling
- Education
- Graduate and Professional School
- Healthcare
- Human Rights
- Labour Relations
- Non-Profit Organizations
- Public Policy
- Social Work

Taking time to explore career options, build experience, and network can help you have a smooth transition to the world of work after graduation.

Gender Studies

Get started thinking about the future now – where do you want to go after your degree? Having tentative goals (like careers or grad school) while working through your degree can help with short-term decisions about courses and experiences, but also help you keep motivated for success.

Why study in Kingston?

For 175 years, our community has been more than a collection of bright minds – Queen's has attracted students with an ambitious spirit. Queen's has the highest retention rates, the highest graduation rates, and one of the highest employment rates among recent graduates. We are a research intensive university focused on the undergraduate experience. The BBC has identified Kingston as one of the GREATEST UNIVERSITY TOWNS in the world – and it is often awarded the safest city in Canada. It is a university city at the core; just a quick drive to Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and even New York. A university with more clubs per capita than any other university in Canada, and a city with more restaurants per capita than any other city in North America – you will have the experience of a lifetime at Queen's – and graduate with a degree that is globally recognized among the best.

We're closer than you think.
