Liberal Studies explores how the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences have shaped much of our daily lives. Through online courses you will investigate four modes of critical thought: scientific inquiry and reasoning, insights into contemporary society and culture, critical perspectives on history, and academic writing. This general BA degree program will help you develop adaptable skills for any career path or life activity, or further education.

PROGRAM PLAN
The Bachelor of Liberal Studies program plan consists of 90.0 units. 60.0 of these units are electives which can be taken from any subject, at any level and in any order, as long you have (or obtain) the prerequisites for any 200 or 300-level courses. The other 30.0 units must be taken as described below.

- 6.0 units from Critical Perspectives on History (e.g. History, Religious Studies, Classics, etc.)
- 3.0 units from Academic Writing (Writing courses)

ELECTIVES (60.0 UNITS)
60.0 additional units selected from all course offerings.

"My name is Anum Nazir, and I am proud to say that I am a graduate of the Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Studies program from Queen's University. I chose to pursue this degree as it offered the convenience of remote learning. At the time, this was the only program of its kind available at Queen's University, providing me with the ideal balance of academic rigor and flexibility.

I appreciated the opportunity to participate in an asynchronous learning program that accommodated my work and travel schedule. I am confident that this program would be an excellent choice for anyone looking for a flexible academic experience, while still receiving a high-quality education from a prestigious university.

Since I graduated from the BA program, it opened doors for me to pursue a Masters degree. I enrolled and completed, a Master of Management in Innovation and Entrepreneurship from Queen's University in class of 2022 as well."

WHAT ABOUT GRADUATE SCHOOL AND FURTHER EDUCATION?
When investigating requirements for careers of interest, be sure to take note of educational requirements – particularly if they require further education beyond a bachelor’s degree. While there are many programs open to 3-year degree graduates, some may require a 4-year degree, the equivalent of a 4-year degree, or a combination of education and experience.

For graduate school programs requiring a 4-year degree, you might want to consider:
- Getting additional work experience before applying to further education to apply later as a mature student.
- Extending your 3-year degree by adding a certificate or additional courses to be equivalent to a 4-year degree.
- Taking additional colleges courses or a 1-year diploma at a college to make up the equivalent of a 4-year degree.
- Exploring if it is possible to take required courses at the future institution during a year as a qualifying student before beginning graduate education.
- Research programs that are more flexible in their requirements. In particular, private institutions, college post-grad diplomas, and intentional programs (e.g. Europe) where 3-year undergrad degrees are a common requirement to apply for a MA program.
- Learning from your classmates about what programs they are applying to with their 3-year online degrees.
- Read the article Post-Graduate Options for General (90.0 unit) Bachelor’s Degrees.
