Philosophy

Philosophy, according to Plato, concerns itself with the good, the true, and the beautiful. Grappling with life's big topics, it also provides students with critical thinking skills that enable you to uncover hidden assumptions, identify core premises, and evaluate arguments. We offer courses that span the history of philosophy, from the ancients to contemporary thinkers, and others that cover broad philosophical topics – from ethics and aesthetics to metaphysics and the nature of truth.

TOP 5 REASONS to study PHILOSOPHY

1. Philosophy puts you in dialogue with society’s brightest minds, from the ancients to more cutting-edge contemporary thinkers.
2. Philosophy is a gateway to professional degrees — Law, Medicine, Public Policy, and more.
3. Students gain analytical skills, and can better understand presuppositions behind arguments.
4. Philosophy will teach you to challenge your own worldview.
5. We offer exchange opportunities to more than 100 schools in over 30 countries.

Alumni Story

“The Queen's Philosophy department became a second home for me. Not only did it provide me with an exceptional, well rounded education, it also gave me the chance to engage with professors who became my mentors, and peers who became my closest friends. Upon graduating, I had numerous doors open to me, as well as relationships with incredible people.”

-Hallie Jones, PHIL BAH

GET RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

Volunteer on- or off-campus with different community organizations such as Frontier College, Queen's Students for Literacy, and the Queen's Journal.

Join teams or clubs on campus. See the AMS Clubs Directory or the Queen's Get Involved page for more ideas.

Consider contributing to publications on campus such as Ultraside Magazine or the Queen's Journal.

GET CONNECTED WITH THE COMMUNITY

Prepare for work or studies in a multi-cultural environment by taking QUIC's Intercultural Competency Certificate and research possible immigration regulations.

Speak to a QUIC advisor to get involved in their programs, events, and training opportunities.

GET THINKING GLOBALLY

Build your intercultural competence by getting involved with other cultures or by practicing or improving your language skills.

Consider publishing in an undergraduate journal, such as McMaster's Perceptia or UBC's Hemlock.

Investigate requirements for full-time jobs or other opportunities career related. Assess what experience you’re lacking and fill in gaps with volunteering, clubs, or internships – check out the Career Services skills workshop for help.

GET READY FOR LIFE AFTER GRADUATION

Grasping with program decisions? Go to Majors Night or get some help with career options from Career Services.

Explore different careers in interest in the Career Services Information Area. For more information check out Career Cruising or by finding and connecting with alumni on LinkedIn.

Start focusing on areas of interest. Research education requirements for careers of interest. If needed, prepare to take any required tests (like the LSAT or GMAT) and get help thinking about Grad School from Career Services.

What will I learn?

A degree in Philosophy can equip you with:

• Think critically and systematically
• Generate ideas about complex subjects
• Use methods of analysis and logical reasoning
• Form and defend positions
• Consider unfamiliar ideas and evaluate opposing arguments
• Identify underlying assumptions across a range of issues
• Summarize and communicate complex material
• Speak and write at a superior level
• Interpret historical and contemporary ideas and texts
• Listen attentively, read carefully, and reflect thoughtfully
• Work in groups to solve problems and make presentations
• Manage your time and resources

Where can I go?

A degree in Philosophy can take your career in many directions. Many students choose to continue their academic inquiry with a Master’s. Our students are equipped with a strong foundation for careers in:

- Applied ethics
- Archives
- Cultural affairs
- Human rights
- Media and communications
- Medical ethics
- Politics and government
- Public and private research
- Public policy

Taking time to explore career options, build experience, and network can help you have a smooth transition to the world of work after graduation.

Why study in Kingston?
For 175 years, our community has been more than a collection of bright minds – Queen's has attracted students with an ambitious spirit. Queen's has the highest retention rates, the highest graduation rates, and one of the highest employment rates among recent graduates. We are a research intensive university focused on the undergraduate experience. The BBC has identified Kingston as one of the GREATEST UNIVERSITY TOWNS in the world – and it is often awarded the safest city in Canada. It is a university city at the core; just a quick drive to Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and even New York. A university with more clubs per capita than any other university in Canada, and a city with more restaurants per capita than any other city in North America – you will have the experience of a lifetime at Queen's – and graduate with a degree that is globally recognized among the best.
