

Sociology

Sociologists investigate how societies work. We study social life at every level, from personal relationships to the functioning of institutions and nations, right up to global interconnections. Our department is widely known for its strengths in criminology and the law, media (informational and surveillance), and social inequalities and social justice. Studying Sociology at Queen's will help you understand the structures and dynamics of societies and the complex effects they have on human behaviour, public issues, everyday life, politics, and culture.

TOP 5 REASONS to study SOCIOLOGY

- 1 Engage with cutting-edge research in criminal justice, media, work diversity, data, and a range of contemporary inequalities.
- 2 Learn to critically evaluate common sense assumptions about the societies you live in.
- 3 Gain transferable skills, from critical analysis to problem-solving, to leadership, research, and communication.
- 4 A flexible plan: take advantage of one of the many opportunities for international exchange.
- 5 A small, collegial department, offering lively discussion and committed mentorship.

Why study in Kingston?

For 175 years, our community has been more than a collection of bright minds – Queen's has attracted students with an ambitious spirit. Queen's has the highest retention rates, the highest graduation rates, and one of the highest employment rates among recent graduates. We are a research intensive university focused on the undergraduate experience. The BBC has identified Kingston as one of the GREATEST UNIVERSITY TOWNS in the world – and it is often awarded the safest city in Canada. It is a university city at the core; just a quick drive to Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and even New York. A university with more clubs per capita than any other university in Canada, and a city with more restaurants per capita than any other city in North America – you will have the experience of a lifetime at Queen's – and graduate with a degree that is globally recognized among the best.

We're closer than you think.
