Why GRADUATE STUDIES in CULTURAL STUDIES?

Cultural Studies is graduate school reinvented for the 21st century. We are a self-governing, interdisciplinary graduate program for people who want to develop the tools to critically understand the world, and change it. The complexity of contemporary culture means that more than ever before society needs people trained in multiple disciplines, theories and practices. We work with communities throughout and beyond the university to create new forms and methods of research that could not be done in traditional departments. Our students write plays and curate exhibitions. They travel to Argentina, China and Turkey for their research. They win the highest academic accolades, including Fulbright and Vanier scholarships.

What unites all these diverse research agendas is our passion for social justice. We believe that all our research should in some way be capable of addressing real world problems. Students work with indigenous peoples, artists, students, prisoners and activist groups to bring about social transformation. They also conduct artistic research-creation, and present their work in a variety of media. When they graduate, our students have superior intellectual tools and practical skills that will last them a lifetime outside of the university.

“Cultural Studies hosts a lively community of scholars, artists, and activists with a broad array of interests and creative practices. The ability to build an international research-creation project allowed me to integrate my research fields with my practice.”

- Zaira Zarza, PhD 2015

Why QUEEN’S?

Comprising over 100 students and over 90 distinguished faculty from 22 disciplines, Cultural Studies is an innovative and growing interdisciplinary research program for MA and PhD students. Our programs include opportunities for cultural production and community-activist fieldwork as options alongside traditional academic research. We are also committed to a diversity of students and faculty and to the global expertise that they bring to the cultural and academic fields. Students participate equally with faculty in the program’s governance.

GETTING STARTED

ACHIEVE YOUR ACADEMIC GOALS
• Start with key priorities like developing your relationship with your supervisor, forming your committee, and doing your coursework.
• Regularly attend the Cultural Studies Colloquium (CUST 802/902) to learn about the scope of Cultural Studies research.
• Find your way through the academic process with help from departmental and Expanding Horizons professional development workshops, the department Grad Chair and the SGS Habitat.

MAXIMIZE RESEARCH IMPACT
• Start to think about the audiences for your research.
• If you will be continuing graduate studies, apply for SSHRC and OGS funding.
• Attend guest lectures on related topics from across campus - be curious, and learn what others are thinking.
• Think about who will serve on your committee, and attend one of their lectures.

BUILD SKILLS AND EXPERIENCE
• Consider positions in student services, the SGPS, or media outlets like the Queen's Journal, CFRC, and the SGS Blog. Look in the AMS Clubs Directory for more ideas.
• Serve on the Cultural Studies Steering Committee, one of our Standing Committees, or other university committees. Talk to the student caucus for tips on getting involved.

ENGAGE WITH YOUR COMMUNITY
• Explore how you can connect with your community through experiential opportunities on- and off-campus.
• Consider an application to the Experiential Learning Project Fund or the FAS or SGS Student Initiation Grants.
• Consider volunteering with different local community organizations, such as Martha's Table, or Loving Spoonful.
• Join the Cultural Studies Student Caucus (CSSC) to give input.

LAUNCH YOUR CAREER
• Finding a career that fits starts with knowing yourself. Get help by taking a Career Services workshop or meeting with a career counsellor. Check out books like So What Are You Going to do With That? or The Academic Job Search from the Career Resource Area for advice on various career options.
• Start reading publications like University Affairs and the Chronicle of Higher Education. Browse non-academic labour market websites. Stay on the lookout for special events like School of Graduate Studies Career Week to explore your career pathways.
• Check admission test deadlines if needed for further studies.

INTERMEDIATE STAGE

CONSULT WITH YOUR SUPERVISOR AND CONFIRM WHICH PATTERNS YOU WILL BE FOLLOWING FOR YOUR THESIS OR PROJECT.
• Consult with your supervisor and confirm which pattern you will be following for your thesis or project.
• Complete further coursework if required, and gain ethics clearance for your research if required.
• Form your supervisory committee, get your research proposal approved, and begin to research and write your project or thesis.
• Consider studying abroad with a Cultural Studies exchange partner.

WRAPPING UP

COMPLETE YOUR PROJECT OR THESIS. SUBMIT YOUR THESIS OR PROJECT TO THE SSPACE ARCHIVE.
• Complete your project or thesis. Submit your thesis or project to the SSPACE archive.
• Considier participating in the 3-Minute Thesis (3MT) competition.
• Consider publication options for your research.
• Attend a major conference in your field, such as those put on by the Canadian Association of Cultural Studies.
• Consider putting an article in The Conversation.
