Why GRADUATE STUDIES in ENGLISH?

The English Department at Queen's University is a professionally-oriented research department whose faculty members are distinguished by both scholarly prowess and teaching excellence. Students in the MA and the PhD programs take courses that involve a wide range of critical methodologies, historical periods, and literary genres; they also take a pedagogical and professional skills course that ranges from academic counselling to grant applications to mentoring undergraduate students.

Why QUEEN’S?

The Master's and Doctoral programs in English at Queen's are among the oldest and most prestigious in the country, combining commitment to historical breadth with promotion of methodological and disciplinary innovation. The department's vibrant intellectual community is developed and sustained by the synergies between the knowledge and passion of our distinguished faculty and the ideas and inspirations of our outstanding graduate students.

Our Master's students consistently demonstrate high rates of success in national awards competitions, in achieving entry into doctoral programs, and in securing employment in fields as varied as editing, publishing, teaching, law, civil service, business, NGO work, and information technologies.

Program STRUCTURE

The 12-month Master of English is offered in 2 patterns:
• Pattern I: Course work. (Recommended standard for an M.A. in English.)
• Pattern II: Course work and thesis of approximately 15,000 words.

“I have been at Queen's for both my MA & PhD, and I can say it's an outstanding program. The library collections are among the best in the country. The size of the program is ideal [...] and, probably most importantly, the faculty are both accomplished and approachable at the same time.”

GETTING STARTED

ACHIEVE YOUR ACADEMIC GOALS

- Start with key priorities like determining a course pattern that builds on your passions while covering your historical requirements.
- Consider how your courses might prepare you for eventual doctoral work or other educational and career goals beyond the MA.
- Find your way through the academic process with help from departmental and Expanding Horizons professional development workshops, the department Grad Chair and the SGS Habitat.

MAXIMIZE RESEARCH IMPACT

- Start to think about the audiences for your research.
- If you will be continuing graduate studies, apply for SSHRC and OGS funding.
- Consider positions in student services, the SGS, or media outlets like the Queen’s Journal, CFRC, and the SGS Blog. Look in the AMS Clubs Directory for more ideas.
- Serve on departmental, faculty or university committees. Talk to the Graduate English Society for tips on getting involved.
- Check out professional development workshops from Expanding Horizons and the history department.

BUILD SKILLS AND EXPERIENCE

- Explore how you can connect with your community through experiential opportunities on- and off-campus.
- Consider whether you wish to take the “Literary Internship” as one of your courses in the Fall term.
- Consider volunteering with different community organizations, such as Lit Fest Kingston, Kingston WritersFest.
- Participate in your graduate and professional community through activities such as graduate student outreach programs, organizing conferences, and research groups.
- Prepare for work or studies in a multi-cultural environment by taking the Intercultural Awareness Training certificate hosted by QUIC and Four Directions Indigenous Student Centre.
- If you are an international student interested in staying in Canada, consider speaking with a Four Directions Indigenous Student Centre career advisor.
- Participate in and present at graduate conferences.
- Investigate internships from Mitacs and other sources.

ENGAGE WITH YOUR COMMUNITY

- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through QueensConnects or LinkedIn, the Queen’s Alumni Association, professional associations, and at conferences. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Consider joining professional associations like the ACCUTE Modern Language Association, and more.

LAUNCH YOUR CAREER

- Finding a career that fits starts with knowing yourself. Get help by taking a Career Services workshop or meeting with a career counsellor. Check out books like What You Are Going to Do With That? or The Academic Job Search from the Career Resource Area for advice on various career options.
- Start reading publications like University Affairs and the Chronicle of Higher Education. Browse non-academic labour market websites. Stay on the lookout for special events like Graduate Student Career Week to explore your career pathways.
- Check admission test deadlines if needed for further studies.

INTERMEDIATE STAGE

- Start keeping an ePortfolio of your skills, experiences and competencies.
- Use a Research Assistant or Teaching Assistant position to develop your research or teaching skills.
- Keep a focus on professional development through teaching and learning.
- For help with teaching, get support from the Centre for Teaching and Learning. Enroll in SGS902 or the PUTL certificate for more professional development in teaching and learning.
- Explore different careers of interest by reading alumni profiles on the SGS website, and using QueensConnects on LinkedIn to connect with Queen’s alumni, or find alumni in various careers through “Ask an Alumni.”
- If you are considering a PhD, explore programs of interest reach out to faculty, and apply to PhD programs and external scholarships.

WRAPPING UP

- Complete your coursework.
- For thesis-based MA students, complete your thesis.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as casual conversations, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Consider publication options for your research.
- Attend a major conference in your field, such as the Annual Meeting of the Canadian Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies or the Modern Language Association Convention.
- Consider putting an article in The Conversation.
