Kingston walk to downtown with its shopping, dining and nestled in the core of the city, only a 10-minute of the Kingston community, with the campus graduate studies. Queen's is an integral part Queen's offers a wonderful environment for professional development opportunities, within 50+ departments & research centres. support among the graduate students enrolled learn and discover in a close-knit intellectual At Queen's, graduate students from all disciplines Ranging from help with academics and careers, support services from your first point of contact where you explore possibilities, set goals and track your individual accomplishments. Everyone's journey is different – the guide offers options for finding your way at Queen's and setting the foundation for your future. To make your own customized map, use the online My Grad Map tool. Queen's provides you with a broad range of support services from your first point of contact with the university through to graduation. Where can I get help? academic and personally. Check out the HABITAT for available resources. What is the community like? At Queen's, graduate students from all disciplines learn and discover in a close-knit intellectual community. You will find friends, peers and support among the graduate students enrolled in Queen's more than 130 graduate programs within 50+ departments & research centres. With the world's best scholars, prize-winning professional development opportunities, excellent funding packages and life in the affordable, historic waterfront city of Kingston, Queen's offers a wonderful environment for graduate studies. Queen's is an integral part of the Kingston community, with the campus nestled in the core of the city, only a 10-minute walk to downtown with its shopping, dining and waterfront. For more about Kingston's history and culture, see Queen's University's Discover Kingston page.

Application FAQs

What do I need to know to APPLY?

ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS
- MA degree with minimum average of B+ (77-79%) or successful completion of the MPhil program.
- Cumulative minimum average of A- (80%) in 10 full-year English Literature courses (or equivalent).

ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS
- Statement of Intent
- Writing sample to be sent directly to English Department
- If English is not a native language, prospective students must meet the English language proficiency requirements in writing, speaking, reading, and listening. The School of Graduate Studies requires the following minimum scores: TOEFL (paper-based): 550, (2) TOEFL iBT: Writing (24/30), Speaking (22/30), Reading (22/30), Listening (20/30); for a total of 88/120 (Applicants must have the minimum score in each test as well as the minimum overall score), or (3) IELTS: 7.0 (academic module overall band score), or (4) PTE Academic: 65.

KEY DATES & DEADLINES
- Application due: January 15.
- Notification of acceptance: March and April.

Before you start your application, please review the Graduate studies application process.

What about FUNDING?

Minimum funding guarantee for PhD students: $20,000/year, throughout years 1-4. The funding package may be comprised of Queen’s Graduate Awards, Teaching Assistantships, or named internal Fellowships. We encourage all students to apply for external funding from OGS, SSHRC and other sources. Queen’s will automatically issue a one time $10,000 award to Doctoral students who have We encourage you to identify an area of study that interests you and contact a potential faculty member with similar research interests to express your interest in graduate work and related experience. This is also an opportunity for you to explore our faculty member’s research area. If you have an interest in graduate study and related experience. This is also an opportunity for you to find out if the faculty member is accepting new graduate students to supervise. Meet with your potential supervisor at departmental events for prospective students.

Why GRADUATE STUDIES in ENGLISH?

The English Department at Queen’s University is a professionally-oriented research department whose faculty members are distinguished by both scholarly prowess and teaching excellence. Students in the MA and the PhD programs take courses that involve a wide range of critical methodologies, historical periods, and literary genres; they also take a pedagogical and professional skills course that ranges from academic counselling to grant applications to mentoring undergraduate students.

“I have been at Queen’s for both my MA & PhD, and I can say it’s an outstanding program. The library collections are among the best in the country. The size of the program is ideal […] and, probably most importantly, the faculty are both accomplished and approachable at the same time.” – Robyn Carruthers, PhD

Why QUEEN’S?

The Master’s and Doctoral programs in English at Queen’s are among the oldest and most prestigious in the country, combining commitment to historical breadth with promotion of methodological and disciplinary innovation. The department’s vibrant intellectual community is developed and sustained by the synergies between the knowledge and passion of our distinguished faculty and the ideas and inspirations of our outstanding graduate students.

Offered by Queen’s since 1942, the PhD in English is designed to foster the scholarly development of our students; we prioritize mentorship, professionalization, and intellectual exchange while maintaining an abiding excitement about our students’ autonomous programs of research. The department is small enough that students get to know our faculty, yet large enough to boast faculty expertise in all major historical periods and a wide array of critical methodologies for literary study.

For PhD students, we offer comprehensive exams and can go directly to pursuing more independent research in the Special Topic Presentation and the dissertation.

Fields of STUDY
- Medieval Literature
- Renaissance Literature
- Restoration & 18th Century Literature
- Romantic Literature
- Victorian Literature
- Modernist Literature
- American Literature
- Canadian Literature
- Indigenous Studies
- Gender Studies
- Postcolonial Studies
- Literary Theory
- Postcolonial Studies
- Literary Theory

School of Graduate Studies

Create an impact
www.queensu.ca/sgs

Program STRUCTURE
PhD (4 years): course work, two-part comprehensive examination (Field Examination and Special Topic Presentation), and dissertation.

Students entering the PhD from MPhil program will have completed the first part of the
Achieve Your Academic Goals

Year I
- Key priorities include developing relationships with members of your cohort and pursuing courses in your field of study while fulfilling historical breadth requirements.
- Meet early with your supervisor to set expectations and discuss roles, responsibilities, program requirements, resources, research/occupational goals, timelines, and all required accommodation plans.
- Look to Student Academic Success Services and Expanding Horizons for a variety of supports.

Year II
- Complete two field exams in your area of specialization in the fall.
- Assemble your supervisory committee (including supervisor and second reader). Set up regular meetings with your supervisor to discuss progress and obstacles to timely completion. Seek experiential professional development opportunities.

Year III
- Continue researching and begin writing your dissertation. Year III is the one in which students often find it the most difficult to be productive.
- Ensure you have completed language requirements and the upper-year elements of ENGL 900.
- Check out the SGS Dissertation Boot Camp or Dissertation on the Lake for writing help.
- Use conference presentations to create, discuss, and explore ways to disseminate research findings. Learn to think and talk like a scholar.

Year IV
- Plan date of thesis submission for examination.
- Present your research at conferences and with supervisor to prepare for defence.
- Review submission and examination guidelines.
- Secure necessary oral defence accommodations.
- Discuss career pathways, references letters, and publication options with your supervisor.

Maximize Research Impact

Year I
- Think about audiences for your research.
- Complete CORE online module on research ethics if doing research with living people or sensitive topics.
- Apply to SSHRC, OGS, and other funding.
- Attend conferences in your field.

Year II
- Attend or present at a graduate conference such as Violation: Representations in Literature and Culture, an Interdisciplinary Graduate Conference at McGill University.
- Expand your research audience through social media.
- Apply for the Graduate Dean’s Travel Grant for Doctoral Field Research.

Year III
- Continue to present at conferences.
- Consider participating in the 3 Minute Thesis (3MT) competition.
- Contact the Queen’s Media Centre for guidance on speaking to news outlets about your work.
- List yourself on the Arts and Science University.

Year IV
- Continue to attend conferences and connect with scholars in your field and with community partners, such as: The Annual Meeting of the Canadian Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies.
- Continue public outreach through social media and the Queen’s Media Centre.

Build Skills and Experience

Year I
- Serve on departmental, faculty or university committees. Talk to the Graduate English Society for tips on getting involved.
- Consider positions in student services, the SGS, or media outlets like the Queen’s Journal, CURE, and the SGS Blog. Look in the AMS Clubs Directory.
- Use a Teaching Assistant or Research Assistant position to develop your skills and experience.

Year II
- Hone skills for non-academic employment by continuing involvement on committees and in community.
- Begin working as a tutorial leader for ENGL 100.
- For help with teaching, get support from the Centre for Teaching and Learning. Enrol in SGS90 or the PUTF certificate for more professional development in teaching and learning.

Year III
- Continue working as a tutorial leader for ENGL 100.
- Apply and prepare for a Teaching Fellowship in your fourth year.
- Find opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizon, Mitacs, or other source to boost your skills.
- Prepare for work or studies in a multi-cultural environment by taking the Intercultural Awareness Training Certificate.

Year IV
- Teach a one-term course as a Departmental Teaching Fellow.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in different forums: casual conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.

Engage with Your Community

Year I
- Consider volunteering with different community organizations, such as Literacy Kingston, Kingston Writer’s Festival, the Wolfe Island Writer’s Festival.

Year II
- Participate in your graduate and professional community through activities such as graduate student outreach programs, organizing conferences, and research groups.

Year III
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest through Queen’sConnect, the Queen’s Alumni Association, professional associations, and at conferences. Get help from a Career Services workshop.

Year IV
- Consider joining professional associations like the ACCUTE, the Modern Language Association, and more.
- Continue targeted networking with people working in careers of interest. Join groups on LinkedIn reflecting specific careers or topics of interest in English studies.

Launch Your Career

Year I
- Finding career fit starts with knowing yourself. Take a Career Services career planning workshop or meet with a career counselor for help. Check out books like So What Are You Going to do With That? or The Academic Job Search from the Careers Resource Area for advice on various career options.
- Start reading publications like University Affairs and the Chronicle of Higher Education. Browse non-academic labour market websites.
- Stay on the lookout for special events like Graduate Student Career Week to explore your career pathways.

Year II
- Start building your teaching portfolio including student evaluations, and seeking mentorship.
- Explore different careers of interest by reading alumni profiles on the SGS website, and using non-academic major websites.
- Investigate requirements for full-time jobs or other opportunities related to careers of interest.

Year III
- Participate in hiring committees and attend job talks. Research academic careers of interest. Craft your CV and job application materials.
- Start focusing on non-academic areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start building together your industry resume and begin your job search plan.

Year IV
- Build connections with faculty outside of your department. Pursue interviews for faculty positions and apply for post doc fellowships and positions.
- Apply to jobs or make plans for other adventures. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- If considering jobs abroad, research possible immigration regulations. If you are an international student interested in staying in Canada, consider speaking with an International Student Advisor.

What Will I Learn?

A graduate degree in English can equip you with:
- Knowledge and technical skills
- Effective communication skills in multiple forms for diverse audiences
- Information management skills: prioritize, organize and synthesize large amounts of information
- Time management: meet deadlines and manage responsibilities despite competing demands
- Project management: develop ideas, gather information, analyze, critically appraise findings, draw and act on conclusions
- Creativity and innovation
- Perseverance
- Independence and experience as a collaborative worker
- Awareness, an understanding of sound ethical practices, social responsibility, responsible research and cultural sensitivity
- Professionalism in all aspects of work, research, and interactions
- Leadership skills and vision leading people and discussion

Where Can I Go?

A PhD in English can take your career in many directions. In Canada, less than 40% of all PhDs will work in post-secondary education – the majority will work in industry, government, or non-profits.

- Writing
- Editing
- Publishing
- Teaching
- Law
- Civil service
- Business
- NGO work
- Information technologies

Taking time to explore career options, build experience, and network can help you have a smooth transition to the world of work after graduation.