As a Fine Art (Visual Art) student at Queen’s, you’ll be part of a small group of 30 students benefiting from intensive training in painting, printmaking, sculpture, and new media/installation. Our courses are taught by instructors active in their fields, and supported through insight into the practices of visiting artists from across the country. Along with an internationally renowned artist in residence and courses in art history and the liberal arts, our program provides a broad spectrum of approaches and experiences. It isn’t all about classrooms or studios: Fine Art students make relevant field trips to exhibitions and workshops, including an annual trip to New York.

The Fine Art (Visual Art) Program offers a three-year General BFA and a four-year Honours BFA degree, with the option of earning a minor in a variety of subjects. Students can expect to learn the following:

1. Two-Dimensional Fundamentals
   - Drawing and Painting
   - Technical Skills
2. Three-Dimensional Fundamentals
   - Print Media
   - Sculpture
   - Painting
   - Drawing
3. Students choose two disciplines (Paint Media, Sculpture/New Media, or Print Media).
4. Self-directed Honours year culminating in a graduating student exhibition.

On campus we have two extraordinary Art Galleries: The Agnes Etherington Art Centre and the Union Gallery.

The Agnes Etherington Art Centre is well known for its innovative exhibitions and prominent shows.

The Union Gallery is committed to the professional presentation of student art. The Union Gallery is administered by a managing director and an operating board made up of Fine Art (Visual Art) students, among others. This gallery provides students with experience in showing art publicly and is a valuable training ground in the skills of gallery management.

“The faculty was incredibly motivating, providing essential instruction in materials, methods and conceptual approaches to art making”
