Why GRADUATE STUDIES in ART HISTORY?

The Queen’s Art History program is strongly committed to mentoring and to the training of graduate students in a variety of interdisciplinary approaches, methodologies, and issues, including the technical examination of art, gender studies, critical theory, cultural representation, curatorial studies, and the relationships among art, literature, and science.

The program offers a wide range of courses that delve into case studies relating to broader issues. All Art History courses emphasize visual literacy and the contextual relevance of the discipline within culture and history.

Why QUEEN’S?

The Art History program at Queen’s maintains close ties with the Agnes Etherington Art Centre on campus, which features innovative exhibitions, programs, and high-quality collections encompassing European paintings of the Baroque era, smaller concentrations of the art of Indigenous peoples of North America, decorative arts, costume and heritage quilts of the region. In addition, the gallery holds a fine collection of the art of West and Central Africa.

“Choosing Art History at Queen’s was one of the best decisions I have ever made. Attending Queen’s was a positive and nurturing experience, made possible because of an advisor and faculty members who were active scholars, thoughtful pedagogues and caring mentors.”

– John Potvin, PhD

The Queen’s Art History program shares a department with Canada’s only Master of Art Conservation program, and our graduate students have the opportunity to take lecture courses in Art Conservation and work with Art Conservation Faculty. Graduate students in Art History carry out internships locally and abroad, recently at such institutions as the National Gallery of Canada, the Kunsthistorisches Museum in Vienna, the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, and the Louvre in Paris. The program offers opportunities to teach, has an outstanding record of supporting students to win major grants, and offers opportunities to participate in a student-organized peer-reviewed interdisciplinary international conference. Queen’s Art History Ph.D. students have access to generous funding to travel and carry out onsite research.

YEAR I

- ACHIEVE YOUR ACADEMIC GOALS
  - Key priorities include your relationship with your supervisor, forming your committee, coursework, field exams, and language exams.
  - Meet early with your supervisor to set expectations and discuss roles, responsibilities, program requirements, resources, research/occupational goals, timelines, and any required accommodation plans.
  - Attend and participate in graduate seminars such as Works in Progress. Look to Student Academic Success Services for a variety of supports.

- MAXIMIZE RESEARCH IMPACT
  - Think about audiences for your research.
  - Complete CORRE online module on research ethics if doing research regarding sensitive topics.
  - Apply to SSHRC, OGS, and other funding.
  - Attend conferences in your field.

- BUILD SKILLS AND EXPERIENCE
  - Serve on departmental, faculty or university committees. Talk to the Graduate Visual Culture Association for tips on getting involved.
  - Consider positions in student services, the SGPS, or media outlets like the Queen’s Journal, CFRC, and the SGS Blog. Look in the AMS Clubs Directory.
  - Use a Teaching Assistant or Research Assistant position to develop your skills and experience.

- ENGAGE WITH YOUR COMMUNITY
  - Consider volunteering with community organizations, museums, or cultural studies groups, such as the Agnes Etherington Art Centre.
  - Join the Department’s Fundraising and Social Committees.

- LAUNCH YOUR CAREER
  - Finding career fit starts with knowing yourself. Take a Career Services workshop, or meet with a career counsellor for help. Check out books like So What Are You Going to do With That? or The Academic Job Search from the Career Resource Area for advice on various career options.
  - Start reading publications like University Affairs and the Chronicle of Higher Education. Browse non-academic labour market websites.
  - Stay on the lookout for special events like School of Graduate Studies Career Week to explore your career pathways.

YEAR II

- ACHIEVE YOUR ACADEMIC GOALS
  - Priorities include completing your comprehensive examination and pursuing substantive research.
  - Set up regular meetings with your supervisor to discuss progress and obstacles to timely completion.
  - Find your way through the academic process with the help of Expanding Horizons and the SGS Habitat.
  - Seek experiential/professional development opportunities. Attend or present at a graduate conference such as Context and Meaning.

- MAXIMIZE RESEARCH IMPACT
  - Present your work at graduate conferences, through professional associations, or topic conferences.
  - Expand your research audience through social media such as Twitter or a blog.
  - Apply for the Graduate Dean’s Travel Grant for Doctoral Field Research or a Bader Fellowship.

- BUILD SKILLS AND EXPERIENCE
  - Hone skills for non-academic employment by continuing involvement on committees.
  - For help with teaching, get support from the Centre for Teaching and Learning. Enroll in SGS902 or the PToL Certificate for more professional development in teaching and learning.
  - Attend workshops put on by the Department, such as the Professional and Academic Development Program (PAYDP).

- ENGAGE WITH YOUR COMMUNITY
  - Participate in your graduate and professional community through activities such as graduate student outreach programs, organizing conferences, and research groups.

- LAUNCH YOUR CAREER
  - Start building your teaching portfolio including student evaluations, and seeking mentorship.

What about FUNDING?

The minimum funding guarantee for Art History PhD students is $18,000 per year, throughout years 1–4. In recent years, doctoral students who do not hold a major external grant have received $20,000–$24,000/year for 4 years. The funding package may be comprised of Queen’s Graduate Awards, Teaching Assistantships, and named internal Fellowships. Many doctoral students in their 3rd year are eligible for a Bader Fellowship, worth up to $30,000.

We encourage all students to apply for external funding from OGS, SSHRC and other sources. Queen’s will automatically issue a $10,000 award to incoming PhD students who have won federal government tri-council awards. For more information, see the School of Graduate Studies.
