Graduate Studies

FAQs

How do I use this map?
Whether you are considering or have embarked on graduate studies at Queen’s, use this map to plan for success in five overlapping areas of your career and academic life. The map helps you explore possibilities, set goals and track your individual accomplishments. Everyone’s journey is different – the guide offers options for finding your way at Queen’s and setting the foundation for your future. To make your own customized map, use the online My Grad Map tool.

Where can I get help?
Queen’s provides you with a broad range of support services from your first point of contact with the university through to graduation. Ranging from help with academic and careers, to physical, emotional, or spiritual resources – our welcoming environment offers the programs and services you need to be successful, both academically and personally. Check out the SGS HABITAT for available resources.

What is the community like?
At Queen’s, graduate students from all disciplines learn and discover in a close-knit intellectual community. You will find friends, peers and support among the graduate students enrolled in Queen’s more than 110 graduate programs within 50+ departments & research centres. With the world’s best scholars, prize-winning professional development opportunities, excellent funding packages and life in the affordable, historic waterfront city of Kingston, Queen’s offers a wonderful environment for professional development opportunities, with the ideas and inspirations of our outstanding graduate students.

Application FAQs

What do I need to know to APPLY?

ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS
- Honours Bachelor of Arts degree
- Grade requirements: minimum average of A- (3.7/4.3 GPA) and a cumulative minimum average of A (3.7/4.3 GPA) in 10 full-year English Literature courses (or equivalent).
- Applicants are expected to have taken courses in most major areas of English literature from the medieval period to the present, and in literary theory.

ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS
- Two official transcripts from each post-secondary institution attended
- Two letters of recommendation
- Statement of interest: Outline of research interests and goals
- Writing sample: 8 pages max. (including bibliography)
- If English is not a native language, prospective students must meet English language proficiency requirements in writing, speaking, listening, and reading. The minimum score requirements for the MPhil program are: (1) TOEFL paper-based: 627, computer-based: 263, internet-based: 109, (2) TOEFL Test of Written English paper or computer-based: 6.0, internet based: 30, and an (3) IELTS score of 7.5. These tests must have been taken within a year of the date of pre-application.

KEY DATES & DEADLINES
- Application due: January 15 for all documentation and application.
- Notification of acceptance: March and April.

Before you start your application, please review the Graduate studies application process.

What about FUNDING?

MPhil students receive minimum funding of $12,000 for the two-year program. Students are usually funded through a combination of internal fellowships, teaching assistantships, bursaries, and scholarships as part of the basic funding package.

Apply for external funding from OGS, SSHRC and other sources. Queen’s will automatically issue a $5,000 top-up to Masters winners of federal government tri-council awards. For more information, see the School of Graduate Studies’ information on FAQs.

English Language & Literature
MPhil Map

Applying to and Navigating Graduate Studies

Why GRADUATE STUDIES in ENGLISH?
The English Department at Queen’s University is a professionally-oriented research department whose faculty members are distinguished by both scholarly prowess and teaching excellence. The newly-launched Master of Philosophy program is unique among Ontario Universities and features intensive field-specific study, broad coursework, a Publishing Practicum, and guaranteed entry into the Queen’s English Doctoral Program upon successful completion of MPhil degree requirements. This program will be of particular interest to undergraduate students considering doctoral research.

Why QUEEN’S?
The graduate programs in English at Queen’s are among the oldest and most prestigious in the country, combining commitment to historical breadth with promotion of methodological and disciplinary innovation. The department’s vibrant intellectual community is developed and sustained by the synergies between the knowledge and passion of our distinguished faculty and the ideas and inspirations of our outstanding graduate students.

Our Master’s students consistently demonstrate high rates of success in national awards competitions, in achieving entry into doctoral programs, and in securing employment in fields as varied as editing, publishing, teaching, law, civil service, business, NGO work, and information technologies.

Fields of STUDY
- Medieval Literature
- Renaissance Literature
- Restoration & 18th-Century Literature
- Romantic Literature
- Victorian Literature
- Modernist Literature
- American Literature
- Canadian Literature
- Indigenous Studies
- Gender Studies
- Postcolonial Studies
- Literary Theory

MPhil students choosing to move directly into the workforce upon graduation will have attained field-specific expertise, advanced professionalization, and evidence of research and writing skills through the Publishing Practicum. MPhil students choosing to move on into doctoral studies will accelerate their dissertation work by three full terms.

Program STRUCTURE
The MPhil is a 24-month program that features coursework, field exams, and a Publishing Practicum. MPhil students pursuing Doctoral studies will receive advanced standing into the PhD program.

"The faculty are both accomplished and approachable at the same time." – Robyn Carruthers, PhD

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE
Lovorka Fabek-Fischer, Graduate Assistant
(613) 533-2153
lf34@queensu.ca
queensu.ca/english

School of Graduate Studies
Create an impact
www.queensu.ca/grad
GETTING STARTED

- Start with key priorities like determining a course pattern that builds on your passions while covering your historical requirements.
- Consider how your courses might prepare you for eventual doctoral work or other educational and career goals beyond the MPhil.
- Find your way through the academic process with help from departmental and Expanding Horizons professional development workshops, the department Grad Chair and the SGS Habitat.

INTERMEDIATE STAGE

- Continue your coursework, being alert to final essays that might be revised into publishable papers.
- Read for and complete field exams.
- Secure your Publishing Practicum placement.

WRAPPING UP

- Complete your coursework, field exams, and Publishing Practicum.
- Consider publishing options for your research.
- Attend a major conference in your field, such as the Annual Meeting of the Canadian Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies or the Modern Language Association Convention.
- Consider putting an article in The Conversation.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Participate in events like graduate student outreach programs, organizing conferences, and research groups.
- Prepare for work or studies in a multi-cultural environment by taking a Career Services workshop. Participate in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.
- Do some targeted networking with people working in careers of interest, through SGS901, the Queen's Alumni Association, or find alumni in various careers through "Alum That?".
- Ask an International Student Advisor.
- Participant in hiring committees and attend job talks. Start focusing on areas of interest. Research organizations of interest and start putting together your CV or resume for potential positions of interest. Get help from Career Services with job searching, resumes, or interviews.
- Practice articulating the skills you have been developing in settings outside the university, such as causal conversation, networking, and interviews. Get help from a Career Services workshop.
- Check out opportunities for extra training through CTL, Expanding Horizons, Mitacs, or other sources to boost your skills.
- Investigate placements from Mitacs and other sources.