The undergraduate program in Gender Studies at Queen’s offers courses in feminist, anti-racist, Indigenous, postcolonial, queer, transgender, and social justice studies. Students learn about the histories of different forms of oppression, engage with popular culture, and critically analyze everyday events. From research papers and blogs, to presentations and creative productions, students work on meticulous research, clear and thoughtful writing, creative expression, and public speaking. Our courses span the arts and social sciences to produce a truly interdisciplinary program, one that prepares students for a broad range of careers.

ALUMNI JOBS

Advocacy and activism
Education
Healthcare
Journalism and Communications
Research and Graduate School
Social Work
Equity and Inclusion Initiatives
Counselling
Law
Government
NGOs
Politics and Policy
Conference and Event Planning
Human Resources
Marketing and Public Relations.

TOP 5 REASONS to study GENDER STUDIES

1. Embrace an intersectional approach to gender as it connects to experiences of race, sexuality, class, nation, and ability.
2. Gain transferable skills for the job market: writing, critical thinking, research, public speaking, and creative production.
3. Explore how structures of power, privilege, and oppression shape current events and pop culture.
4. Learn tools to advocate for systemic change in light of current social and political realities.
5. Challenge the status quo and engage in social justice work both locally and globally.

“Some of the most memorable times in my degree was due to the environment that Gender Studies fosters to pursue some amazing opportunities such as a self-directed study and partaking in the Feminist Legal Studies Queen’s course. These unique experiences have contributed to shaping my future path.”

-Nathalie Hunter, BAH ’20

2020-21 major thresholds

1.9 cGPA AUTOMATIC ACCEPTANCE
min C- in GNDS 1##

OPEN PENDING LIST

Thresholds are made on a competitive basis and are updated annually. To see the thresholds for all programs as well as the latest information, please visit quartsci.com/planselection

add a CERTIFICATE to your degree

- Data Analytics
- Disability and Physical Activity
- Employment Relations
- Entrepreneurship, Innovation and Creativity
- French for Professionals
- Geographic Information Science
- Global Action and Engagement
- Indigenous Languages and Cultures
- International Studies
- Media Studies
- Sexual and Gender Diversity
- Urban Planning Studies
- quartsci.com/certs

That is a degree from Queen’s.

queensu.ca/gnds
In first year you’ll have the chance to explore the foundations of Gender Studies along with some electives.

Delve deeper into the Gender Studies, while considering a minor to compliment your studies. Look into the Sexual and Gender Diversity certificate program to add a specialization in sexual/gender diversity to your degree. Attend Degree + in the Fall term to learn more about Certificates and Internship options.

Visit SASS (Student Academic Support Services) and the Writing Centre for extra help.

Join teams or clubs on campus such as the Sexual Health Resource Centre (SHRC), the AMS Commission of Social Issues, Queen’s Black Academic Society and the Four Directions Indigenous Student Centre.

See the AMS Clubs Directory or the Queen’s Get Involved page for more ideas.

Look into summer jobs by talking to the department or Career Services about work through SWEP or Work-Study.

Take more responsibility within different clubs or extracurriculars. Volunteer at organizations like the AMS Peer Support Centre.

Volunteer on or off-campus with different community organizations such as the Levana Gender Advocacy Centre, Sexual Assault Centre Kingston, Pathways to Education Kingston, Dress for Success, ReelOut Film Festival and Queen’s InvisAbilities.

Get involved with the Departmental Student Council (DSC).

Start or continue volunteering with organizations such as Queen’s Advocates for Women’s Global Rights. Continue volunteer and social justice work on and off campus.

Prepare for work or studies in a multi-cultural environment by taking QUIC’s Intercultural Awareness Certificate, and research possible immigration regulations.

Speak to a QUIC advisor to get involved in their programs, events, and training opportunities.

Is an exchange in your future? Start thinking about where you would like to study abroad. Apply in January for a third year exchange through the International Programs Office.

Gender Studies offers a special exchange program at the University of Oslo.

Grappling with program decisions? Go to Majors Night or get some help with career options from Career Services.

Explore careers of interest by reading books in the Career Services library, such as The Pathfinder: How to Choose or Change Your Career. For more information check out Career Cruising or by finding and connecting with alumni on LinkedIn.

A chance to start grouping courses in areas of interest, or to keep it more general and explore many areas of Gender Studies. Meet with an Academic Advisor to make sure you are on track and have planned out your courses for next year.

Do large scale career networking or consider program Summer internships hosted by the Queen’s Innovation Connector Summer Initiative (QICSI).

Build your intercultural competence by getting involved with other cultures or by practicing or improving your language skills.

Are you interested in starting a career in a multi-cultural environment? Consider taking QUIC’s Intercultural Awareness Certificate, and research what possible immigration regulations might apply.

Speak to a QUIC advisor to get involved in their programs, events, and training opportunities.

Is an exchange in your future? Start thinking about where you would like to study abroad. Apply in January for a third year exchange through the International Programs Office.

Gender Studies offers a special exchange program at the University of Oslo.

Grappling with program decisions? Go to Majors Night or get some help with career options from Career Services.

Explore careers of interest by reading books in the Career Services library, such as The Pathfinder: How to Choose or Change Your Career. For more information check out Career Cruising or by finding and connecting with alumni on LinkedIn.

A chance to start grouping courses in areas of interest, or to keep it more general and explore many areas of Gender Studies. Meet with an Academic Advisor to make sure you are on track and have planned out your courses for next year.

Visit careers.queensu.ca/majormaps for the online version with links!
A chance to start grouping courses in areas of interest, or to keep it more general and explore many areas of Gender Studies. Meet with an Academic Advisor to make sure you are on track and have planned out your courses for next year.

In fourth year you will have the chance to participate in research-based courses that can lead to Graduate School or to your future career path. Make sure to finish up all your courses for your major and your optional minor and/or certificate(s).

What will I learn?
A degree in Gender Studies can equip you with:
• Understanding how gender is linked with experiences of race, Indigeneity, nation, sexuality, class, and ability.
• Knowledge and tools to identify and challenge structures of power and oppression.
• Skills to engage with creative texts, films, performance, and art.
• Active rather than passive responses to popular culture.
• Mixed methodologies combining the arts, social sciences, and health sciences.
• Analytical skills to form and defend positions with clarity and accuracy in diverse formats.
• Critical thinking skills to recognize and assess the assumptions behind arguments.

Where can I go?
A degree in Gender Studies can take your career in many directions. Many students choose to continue their academic inquiry with a Master's degree. Our students are equipped with a strong foundation for careers in:
• Advocacy Work and Activism
• Communication and journalism
• Counselling
• Education
• Graduate and professional school
• Health care
• Human resources
• Labour Relations
• Non-governmental organizations
• Public Policy
• Social work

Taking time to explore career options, build experience and network can help you have a smooth transition to the world of work after graduation.

* This map is intended to provide suggestions for activities and careers, but everyone’s abilities, experiences, and constraints are different. Build your own Major Map using our online My Major Map tool.
Gender Studies

MAJOR MAP

Why study in Kingston?
For over 175 years, our community has been more than a collection of bright minds – Queen’s has attracted students with an ambitious spirit. Queen’s has the highest retention rates, the highest graduation rates, and one of the highest employment rates among recent graduates. We are a research intensive university focused on the undergraduate experience. The BBC has identified Kingston as one of the GREATEST UNIVERSITY TOWNS in the world – and it is often awarded the safest city in Canada. It is a university city at the core; just a quick drive to Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and even New York. A university with more clubs per capita than any other university in Canada, and a city with more restaurants per capita than any other city in North America – you will have the experience of a lifetime at Queen’s and graduate with a degree that is globally recognized among the best.